Tegwyn Harper

Tegwyn Harper-Human Sports Body Massage Therapist; International Coach; Equine Canada Certified Coach; CanTRA Coach and Examiner; Rider Bio-Mechanics Level #2 and 2015 International Bio-Mechanics Coach of the Year. Tegwyn grew up in the UK, riding horses for clients from a young age. In 1995 she began coaching off her own property and horses. She specialized in eventing, show jumping and hunting, as well as training horses for her clients. She had an industrious career, and a few star studded moments including the Duke and Lady of Rutland at Belvoir Castle in Lincolnshire!

In 2007, Teg and her family emigrated to Canada, and set up on a lovely farm in Black Creek. With her 2 quarter horses, Teg had planned a quiet retirement. Like all well made plans, that quickly fell apart! Teg found herself drawn to therapeutic riding, and discovered a passion for bringing The Comox Valley Therapeutic Riding Society up to date and a part of the CanTRA family. In 2008 Teg achieved her SI certification, and helped bring CVTRS to accreditation.

In 2012 Teg, who had always had a life long interest and novice involvement in rider bio-mechanics, began her formal studies with Colleen Kelley. In 2015, Teg won the prestigious International Bio-Mechanics Coach of the Year award in Kentucky, USA.

Teg is now the Head Instructor at The Comox Valley Therapeutic Riding Society, and continues to coach privately around Northern Vancouver Island, specializing in Rider Bio-Mechanics and Rider Fundamentals. "It is the grassroots teaching that matters. Bio-Mechanics makes you aware of your body and how it can affect your horse. This is essential to therapeutic riding, as our horses are the backbone of every Society."
